

Public Lectures in Baha'i Studies 2023

The Chair in Baha'i Studies at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem is pleased to present a series of three online lectures intended for the general public, to be given by prominent scholars of the Baha'i faith

Thursday, 26 January 2023
18:30 (Israel time)

Prof. Holly Hanson

Coordinator, The Research Department,
Baha'i World Centre
Professor Emeritus, Mount Holyoke
College

Approaching 200 Years:
The Value of Comparative History in the Study of the Baha'i Faith

Thursday, 30 March 2023
18:30 (Israel time)

Dr. Julio Savi

Independent scholar

"... Let the Sweetness of His Presence Dissolve the Bitterness of your Remoteness from His Court": Mystical Aspects of the Baha'i Faith

Thursday, 1 June 2023
18:30 (Israel time)

Dr. Joshua Lincoln

Senior Fellow, Fletcher School, Tufts University
Secretary-General of the Baha'i
International Community (2013-2019)

'Abdu'l-Baha 'Abbas of Acre, Head of the Baha'i Faith: A Life in Sociopolitical Context

All lectures will be delivered via Zoom

(links to be provided) at 18:30 (Israel time)

For further information contact eitan.ishai@mail.huji.ac.il

The Baha'i faith is a monotheistic religion born in the nineteenth century that sees itself as the continuation of the world's great religions with a new message for the modern age. Today there are more than seven million believers living in every part of the planet and reflecting the diversity of its population. The Chair in Baha'i Studies in Jerusalem is the first academic chair in the world dedicated entirely to the study, research, and teaching of the Baha'i faith.